"I'm really excited to introduce HyperMotion Technology to FIFA," said Adam Orth, Executive Producer on Fifa 22 Serial Key. "In FIFA, we're all about being able to faithfully reproduce the realistic feel and balance of football in the real world and the technology required to make that happen is deep. This technology delivers incredible gameplay effects in real-time, while having no impact on the physics. The result is video game action that's as life-like and authentic as any we have seen." "We've been iterating on FIFA for a very long time. Our quality targets for FIFA never change so it's rewarding to apply the technologies we have developed to FIFA for years. We are really passionate about its quality and attention to detail and with our continued investment in the 'Football Next' engine, we are able to keep delivering unique gameplay innovations." The HyperMotion technology is being applied across the game by EA Sports.
